MEALS: Pre-planned dinner and breakfast are included in the Sleepover package. Make sure your group leader is aware of any special dietary needs or allergies to include in the roster sent to SeaWorld staff so we can make accommodations if needed.

LUGGAGE: SeaWorld Security may search bags prior to entry. Plan to store your luggage in your vehicle at 8:00 a.m. the day after your Sleepover event.

BEDTIME: Dependent upon park hours and activities. Your group's bedtime may be as late as midnight during certain times of the year.

Any additional guests planning to join your group in the park for the day are responsible for their own parking and admission.

PARENTS & CHAPERONES: Due to the nature of our program and the age of the participants, SeaWorld Staff are unable to give out specific information pertaining to any Sleepover. This includes, but is not limited to, cancellations, substitutions, and persons attending the Sleepover. The SeaWorld Sleepover team will happily answer any general questions you may have about sleepovers, but for specific information refer to your group leader.

CODE OF CONDUCT: All participants are expected to act in a responsible and courteous manner at all times. Upon arrival to the program, SeaWorld staff will review examples of acceptable and unacceptable behavior. If a behavior problem arises, the staff will first discuss the problem with the individual. If the problem continues or is severe, SeaWorld Security officers may be asked to intervene. Finally, if the problem is not rectified, the participant may be removed from the program. Adult participants are responsible for providing their own transportation and a refund will not be issued.

Examples of behavior that may result in a participant being removed from the program include, but are not limited to, consumption or possession of alcohol (including in parking lots); use or possession of tobacco products (including e-cigarettes) or illegal narcotics; possession of a weapon (real or look-a-like); destruction of property; stealing; separating from the group during program hours; and entering the sleeping area of the opposite gender.
